THE THREE SESSION TYPES

HYROX Foundation	Core conditioning sessions that combine running, carries and strength movements.
HYROX Aerobic	Steady, conversational-pace work to build your aerobic engine.
HYROX Power	Strength and power-focused sets to build functional strength.

HOW TO GET THE MOST FROM IT

- Move steadily and keep good form before you chase speed. Pacing beats going out too hard.
- Use the coaching notes beside each workout to scale movements, weights and distances to your level.
- Log your times, rounds and weights each session so you can see your progress from Week 1 to Week 2.
- Warm up before every session and stop if something hurts.

TRAINING TERMS

AMRAP	As many rounds as possible within the time given.	Thruster	A squat straight into an overhead press.
For Time	Complete the work as fast as you can with good form.	Wall Ball	A squat with a medicine ball thrown to a target on the wall.
DB / KB	Dumbbell / kettlebell.	Farmer Carry	Walk holding a weight in each hand.
TRX / Rings	Suspension straps for rows. The lower your body angle, the harder the row.	Suitcase Carry	Walk holding a weight in one hand at your side, then switch.
ROM	Range of motion. Move through the full range on every rep.	Sled Push / Pull	Push or pull a weighted sled over the set distance.
